

What does it cost you to manage your fuel inventory? How timely do you receive inventory levels? Have you ever experienced downtime in your operations because of a fuel run-out resulting from a breakdown in your inventory management procedures? Guttman Oil's Inventory Management Solutions minimize the time and effort needed to manage your fuel inventories so fuel is always in the tank when you need it.

INVENTORY MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS

Through a secure, easy-to-use web site, you can access current tank inventory levels 24 hours a day, seven days a week without the hassle and costs of "sticking the tanks" or checking manual gauges multiple times a day. For a full-service option, Guttman Oil professionals can monitor your tanks for you and schedule deliveries according to a set program that you approve.

GUTTMAN'S INVENTORY MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS HELP YOU:

- Minimize or eliminate costly fuel outages
- Eliminate the hassles and costs of measuring tank inventory manually
- Manage multiple tank locations from a central site
- Receive automatic fuel inventory alerts via e-mail, text message, or fax
- Perform trend analysis on historical fuel usage data

HOW IT WORKS:

- Guttman Oil's trained staff or service partners install state-of-the-art wireless tank monitors into your underground or aboveground fuel storage tanks
- At predetermined times of the day, inventory levels are read by the monitors and transmitted to a central data center
- Through a secure, simple web-based interface, the inventory in any tank can be analyzed to make decisions regarding optimal delivery times and quantities
- For added control, e-mail, text message, or fax alerts can be set up to notify key personnel when inventory reaches certain predetermined levels, allowing you to take action before reaching critically low levels
